

GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY

My birthday is the 24th of September.

I am very excited for my birthday.

I am excited about the presents I would like on my birthday.

I have chosen 3 presents. I will open these presents on my birthday.

There are ten weeks until my birthday.

Mum will tell me when I can tick off another week.

When I am very excited for my birthday, I can:

- look at the presents I would like on the computer
- check my calendar to see when my birthday is coming
- play with my presents from last year.

Most people love to celebrate their birthday. Many people find writing for their birthday hard. My birthday will come in ten weeks and I will celebrate with my family.

G: I would like a train LEGO set for my birthday

G: I think there's only one train LEGO set. AJ can't have it because I want it.

AJ: I would also like a LEGO set for my birthday!

G: No AJ! you can't have it!

AJ: George says I can't have a birthday present!
George you're stupid!

G: I'm not stupid! you can't have it AJ! it's mine!

George and AJ Wanting The same Gift

I would like a LEGO train set for my birthday. I am worried that there is only one set available. AJ said he would like the same set. That made me upset because it's my birthday first.

When toys like LEGO train sets are made, the manufacturers make a lot of them. There are enough train sets that I can have one and so can AJ. Next time AJ says he would like a train set, I will remember that we can both have one, and I will get mine first.
